

The Postscript by the Editor

In this issue, we have the review article for the current development status by Mr Matsumoto and On the Evolution of the Commercial Communications Satellite Industry by Dr. Butash, Immediate Past Chair of AIAA TCCS, which will be interested in the audience of SJR. In past several years, the commercial satellite industry augural entered a sharp recession, but now the commercial satellite industry has hit bottom and experienced recovery, but will need to continue efforts in order to develop new technology gradually for future satellite communications.
